

Abstracts
2004 ORI Research Conference on Research Integrity
Due - April 16, 2004

Provide the information requested below as an email attachment sent to:

- nsteneck@umich.edu (or)
- rdorsey@osophs.dhhs.gov

Format: MS Word file, 12 pt. Times or Times Roman, Mac or PC. WordPerfect will be accepted.

I. Author/moderator/organizer information:

1. Name:
2. Email:
3. Institution:
4. Phone:
5. Paper/Session/Group Title:

II. Type of session (list one only per abstract):

1. Research presentation (15-20 minute presentation of research findings, methods, or ideas)
2. Poster presentation (display of research findings, 4' x 6' poster)
3. Panel discussion (informal presentations by 3-5 presenters, provide tentative names.)
4. Working group (informal group to meet outside regular meeting schedule)

II. Research Area (pick one or two that best characterize your presentation):

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| Authorship & publication                 | Mentoring/teaching responsible conduct |
| Clinical/human or animal subject         | Questionable research practices        |
| Collaborative research                   | Peer review                            |
| Conflict of interest                     | Research climate                       |
| Data management                          | Research Misconduct                    |
| Institutions (universities or societies) | Other (explain)                        |

III. Abstract:

1. Aims or objective (50 word maximum)
2. Method (100 word maximum)
3. Findings or general conclusions (100 word maximum)

Review and program announcement: Abstracts will be reviewed by a program committee. Preference will be given to original investigations or presentations that open new research areas, use new research methods, or provide new insights into recognized research problems. Proposals for theoretical or methodological presentations, historical analyses, and interpretive literature reviews will also be considered. Reviews will usually be completed within two weeks of submission. The final program should be announced by the end of May. For further information or questions about appropriate topics or the different presentation formats, message nsteneck@umich.edu.